Preface Preface

In 2001, we decided to create an online Bible school called “The School of Biblical Evangelism,” in which we would systematically equip Christians to share their faith. It would have a total of 120 lessons. We couldn’t wait to get it underway, so we placed the first ten lessons online, thinking we could write the others before students caught up with us. We were wrong. Almost immediately students were banging on our door asking, “Where is the next lesson?”

The experience of trying to outrun hungry students was a taste of what was to come. Within a short time we were delighted to find that over 2,000 students from 18 countries had enrolled in the school.

It was because of this response that we decide to publish the “School of Biblical Evangelism” in a printed format for those who don’t have Internet access, or who prefer to work directly from the printed page. It was a huge task, and it was one that we delegated to our brilliant editor, Lynn Copeland. We are very appreciative of her talents, not only for revising and refining the lessons, but for making them so pleasing to the eye. The School has been streamlined and now consists of 101 enhanced lessons focusing on how to share your faith biblically.

It is our deepest hope that you not only will enjoy each lesson, but will be motivated by them to fulfill the Great Commission, while there is still time.

Yours faithfully,
Kirk Cameron & Ray Comfort

How to Use These Lessons

This study course is designed for you to proceed at your own pace. Don't hurry through; take all the time you need to digest the content. The goal isn't simply to complete the course but to truly learn the way of the Master in sharing the gospel.

Each of the 101 lessons begins with a thought-provoking quote, followed by a comment from Kirk Cameron sharing his thoughts on the subject. In the "Questions & Objections" is a common question or objection to the Christian faith along with a possible response.

At the end of each lesson are various features to enhance the lesson content. The "Preacher's Progress" sections, written in the style of John Bunyan's classic Pilgrim's Progress, are sample witnessing conversations intended to help convey biblical concepts.

You will also see "Feathers for Arrows." Just as feathers help arrows to find their target, these paragraphs will help you to drive home certain truths when you are witnessing or preaching. The occasional "Words of Comfort" have been included to put a smile on your face and console you if you sometimes do dumb things.

Each lesson also includes a famous person's "Last Words" (fearful, philosophical, or unusual) as well as a "Memory Verse." To help you, the back of the book includes a suggested method of memorizing Scripture.

The "Questions" following each lesson are designed to help you better recall the lesson content. Please think through the questions and come up with your own responses. Possible answers are provided in the back of the book.

May God bless you as you study His Word.
